WHY AND HOW OF RTTP AND CANDIDATE RTTP

The profession of knowledge transfer manager requires a series of competences which can be developed with specific courses and with a training on the job.

ATTP identified these competences and experiences and has been promoting international standard for knowledge and technology transfer professionals.

In particular, the status of RTTP (Registered Technology Transfer Professional) is awarded to professionals demonstrating such competences, experiences and achievements in the field. "Candidate RTTP" is a designation for junior knowledge transfer managers, who commit to a pathway of training and development, agreed with their manager, leading to the award of full RTTP status. This webinar aims at explaining the importance of RTTP and the details of application process, requirements and criteria, to help members of the Italian KT community who are interested in the full RTTP accreditation or in the Candidate RTTP designation.
